Indiana Electronics Contract Manufacturer, Carson Manufacturing Company, Inc. Continues to Grow Adding Capital Equipment and Personnel to Support Their Printed Circuit Board Assembly Operation.

Investment Expands Production Capabilities of High-Mix, Low to Medium Volume Electronic Contract Manufacturing Services for Medical, Military and Industrial Companies.

Indianapolis, IN (April 8, 2013) – Carson Manufacturing Co., Inc., one of the Midwest’s most reliable contract manufacturers, continues to invest in equipment and personnel to support its expanding capacity and technical capability. A new Rhythm, selective wave soldering system has been purchased and is expected to arrive on site April 15th. The Rhythm system will enhance their ability to offer reliable, lead-free solutions for the electronic contract manufacturing industry. The equipment is designed to support high-mix, low to medium volume production that can be programmed in minutes, while providing wave stability and defect-free performance.

In succession with the new equipment, added employment opportunities are expected. Employment has already doubled at Carson Manufacturing over the past 17 months to support the increase in business and is expected to add more operators and technical staff before the end of this year.
